

These are the most important changes to your health insurance in 2025.

Mandatory excess

In 2025, the mandatory excess will remain €385. For more information about the mandatory excess and the option to pay in instalments, visit zk.nl/eigenrisico.

Statutory personal contribution and maximum reimbursements

You are required to pay a statutory personal contribution towards the cost of certain care covered by your basic insurance, or a maximum reimbursement may apply. A few examples are patient transportation, or a wig. The government determines which care is subject to a personal contribution and sets the amount. For more information, visit zk.nl/eigenbijdrage. In 2025, the statutory personal contribution or maximum reimbursement for certain types of care is changing. Visit zk.nl/vergoedingen and check your reimbursement ahead of time to make sure you know where you stand.

Changes to the basic insurance Basis Zeker

If you choose a voluntary deductible in 2025, first check zk.nl/eigenrisico. Because after November 12, 2024, you will find out what discount you will receive if you opt for a voluntary deductible in 2025.

If you choose to pay the premium every six months or annually in 2025, first check zk.nl/betaaltermijn. Because after November 12, 2024, you will find out what discount you will receive if you opt to pay the premium every six months or annually in advance in 2025.

Do you have a personal budget (Zvw-pgb)? Then you will be informed separately about the changes to the Zvw-pgb Regulation. The changes will also be available on zk.nl by November 12, 2024, at the latest.

Are you receiving a bill from your healthcare provider, healthcare institution, or supplier that you submit to us yourself? Then it is important that the bill also includes the valid AGB code (related to your care) of both the billing healthcare provider and the performing healthcare provider if it is possible for them to apply for an AGB code from Vektis and/or if it is mandatory for reimbursement of care based on these policy conditions.

Are you using taxi transportation from a provider with whom we have not made any agreements? To ensure that your taxi transportation is of good quality, your taxi provider will need to have the TX quality mark starting from January 1, 2025. If your provider does not have this quality mark, we will not reimburse the costs. Additionally, a taxi provider used as a patient transporter must also have an AGB code.

New in 2025: long-term exercise therapy for patients with rheumatoid arthritis with severe functional limitations will be reimbursed from the basic insurance starting January 1, 2025. You will no longer need supplementary insurance for these costs. However, please note that these costs will now fall under the deductible.

Starting January 1, 2025, there will be no maximum limit on the number of exercise therapy treatments for patients with COPD.

If you choose accommodation instead of patient transport, make sure that the original and clearly itemized invoice for your accommodation costs includes a VAT number.

The costs for counseling for prenatal screening will be covered by a government scheme starting in 2025. Therefore, this reimbursement will no longer be included in your basic insurance.

Starting in 2025, more healthcare providers will be able to refer you to medical specialist rehabilitation. A complete overview of this will be available in the policy conditions on our website.

A front tooth treatment for insured individuals up to 23 years old may only be requested and performed by a dentist or oral surgeon, and no longer by an orthodontist.

Starting in 2025, there will be no reimbursement for paramedical rehabilitation care for patients with persistent complaints following a COVID-19 infection.

Starting in 2025, rehabilitation for the elderly (geriatric rehabilitation) will be more frequently reimbursed from the basic insurance. Additionally, the elderly individual can start rehabilitation directly at home in 2025.

To reduce waiting lists for mental health care (GGZ), a Preliminary Mental Health Discussion will be organized starting January 1, 2025. The general practitioner can request a preliminary discussion if there is uncertainty about the best approach to psychological issues.
